

Douglas Kevin Dandridge

September 12, 1957 - April 28, 2021

Douglas Kevin Dandridge, 63, of Tallahassee, and a retired United States Army Veteran, died December 19, 2020. He will be laid to rest in the Tallahassee National Cemetery.

James Sircy and Jackie Fulford of Young Fulford Funeral Home and Crematory are assisting with arrangements, which should be completed by May 3, 2020. Please return to this obituary for updated information on the scheduling of the burial service.

850-610-4444 YoungFulford.com

Tribute Wall

“ Douglas Kevin Dandridge

October 22, 2023 at 10:27 PM

“ Douglas Kevin Dandridge

October 09, 2023 at 11:25 AM

“ *This is years late, but I just found out you passed away. Your books were always inspiring and I remember buying your Exodus books the day they came out.
Rest easy.*

Ben - August 22, 2023 at 02:39 PM

“ Douglas Kevin Dandridge

September 22, 2022 at 01:34 PM

“ I have never met Doug but i read his beautiful books, they were spellbinding space operas that i am going to miss. His galaxy spanning Exodus series was always entertaining and i am sad he will not be able finish it.

My sympathies to all Doug's family and friends - may he rest in peace.

Paul - January 03, 2022 at 11:08 AM

LA

I also loved Doug's writing. He had an amazing imagination and he created wonderful optimistic galaxy spanning worlds. Very sad that his good humoured and exciting voice is gone. And I will forever be waiting for the final book of the EXODUS series, where the emperor Sean finally enters the Ca'cadasan home system victorious. RIP Doug, you brought a lot of people of lot of pleasure with your books. Missed

Luke A - January 09, 2022 at 02:45 PM

Marcel
Loesberg

I don't know Doug but I know his work. His Exodus series was one of the best space opera series I have read. Like many fans I will forever be waiting for book 18. RIP Doug, you and your work will be missed. Thank you for keeping us spellbound for all those years. My condolences to your loved ones. I wish them strength in the months and years ahead. From experience I know the pain will not go away but time will take the edge of and bring the good memories to the front.

Marcel Loesberg - August 16, 2022 at 06:13 PM

HJ

I am very sad to hear that Doug has passed away. My deepest sympathies go to his family and friends.

I have never met Doug in real life but through his amazing books it almost feels as if I have.

I particularly loved the Exodus series and for a long time, I have been looking for book 18 on my Kindle, not understanding why it did not appear.

Now I know why and it saddens me that the conclusion of this epic adventure will never be written.

Honored be your memory and may you rest in peace !

Henrik Jorgensen, Denmark

Henrik Jorgensen - March 17, 2023 at 04:21 AM

RH

Just found out Doug passed away. I never met Doug but read all his books. Every couple of years I would enjoy re-reading his Exodus and Refuge series and check for any new additions to those series. Rest In Peace Doug.

Robert Hembrock - March 30, 2023 at 07:14 PM

“I've known Doug for about 47 years...we served in Marine Corps JROTC back from 1973 onward. Lost track of Doug until we connected with Facebook. I am just broken hearted to hear that he passed away.

Fair Winds, Following Seas to your destination old friend.. you are missed.

Jim Speed - September 13, 2021 at 12:34 AM