“ I wish to share my sincere condolences to Ivy’s family. We first met as coworkers for Albertsons. We hit it off as friends from the very beginning. At one point, I became her “boss”. Then, through circumstances not readily explainable in this brief space, we “switched places.” But our love and respect for one another never missed a beat in the process.

She came through my checkout line at Publix just a few days ago. It was brief and pleasant, as always. As it turns out, it was to be our last one – – this side of heaven.

May God bless all of you that mourn her loss... with precious memories of time spent with her.
