“ One memory comes to mind: sharing that bottle of Cholula hot sauce whenever I would skip other classes just to help out in yours. You made me care about art again. You held on to my art even after I had graduated. You cared.

A strong woman, caring Mother, and a passionate teacher. I send my best to your family.

May you rest well Ms. Plewes.

“ I met Mary Ellen during her freshman year at Elon, but then got to be good friends when we studied abroad together in London. She was my partner in crime, ha! We exercised together, traveled together, babysat, went to tea, had picnics in the park, and had a lot of laughs and fun! She helped push me out of my comfort zone and definitely helped me seize the moment! Even though we hadn't kept in touch much over the years, just knowing she was out in the world making a difference for her children and students was important. I hated to hear of her passing, but am thankful to have called her friend. Lifting up her family in prayer.

“ Mary Ellen and I met as chaperones on a chorus trip to Epcot, and our daughters are best friends. We immediately hit it off and went on to chaperone another trip together to New Orleans and had a great time. I have so many happy memories with her and had promised to take her back to Disney when she recovered. She can't physically go now, but she will be with us in spirit, just as she is at the beach. From the time of diagnosis, until her last day she fought this demon. She fought for her kids, family, and all of those that loved her. Her smile would light up a room and she never backed down from a challenge. I am a better person for knowing her. Fly high sweet friend.....until I see you again.

“ Oh Mary, from when you were little to our last conversation and everything in between there is so much of you to remember. You brought a smile to my face and warmth to my heart. I will miss you until we meet again. I love you. Auntie Laura ❤️🙏

“ I got to know Mary Ellen as a parent, teacher, and friend, and I will always cherish the memories with her. As I became friends with Annabelle, I also became friends with Her mom. And our moms became friends. She was always a friend to everyone. As a teacher, her projects were always a fun alternative to what the other classes had. And she fought to get the COVID pandemic students access at home to devices that could run Photoshop and as soon as we did, she fought to keep us on pace with the previous years. And just like she fought for us then, she fought her cancer until the very last day. The doctors gave her 6 months to a year and she made it over 2 1/2 because she kept fighting. Mary Ellen always demonstrated her strength and love for others. She was a beautiful soul inside and out, and anyone who had the pleasure of meeting her would agree.
