"The morning came when God called my name. I can hear the rejoicing of the Angels. The closer I got to Heaven the louder the sounds of rejoicing. When I arrived at Heaven's Gates God was there to let me in. God said to me. Welcome home my child, welcome. Your life on earth has come to its end, and your life here with Me is for eternity. There will be no more sorrows or sadness. For I have given you unspeakable joy. There will be no more hurting or pain. For I have given you a new body, and peace that surpasses all understanding. I have always covered you with my love. For love covers all. You see the church you were going to. I sent you there, so you could always feel My love, get to know Me, and be close to Me. It was My love that forgave you of your sins, and threw them in the sea of forgetfulness. Where your sins will be remembered no more. My love for you is unconditional. I have loved you, I love you, and always will love you. Welcome home my child, welcome. The morning came when God called my name."

“ You are air I breathe, you’re my second heart beat, He was Nailed to The Cross so that you and me no longer had to hurt, then He sent his Angels ahead of the storm to bring us Peace. I tell my heart to be still, and know that God has granted us peace. I know that no grave can Hold Us Down because we will meet again Eternally. Rest In Heaven my brother, and know that you are loved and missed. Love you, baby sis! Ava Tankard-Diaz
