

Wallis M. McCoy

May 24, 1943 - May 2, 2021

Wallis M. McCoy, age 77, died on Sunday, May 2, 2021 in the care of hospice with his loved ones close to him.

While Wallis went into final rest in Tallahassee, FL, he only lived in the area for three years. He spent most of his years in Alaska, Hawaii, and traveling the globe. Wallis was worldly. He served his country through the United States Army, working some in the Pentagon, and managed Pipe Line projects finding residence in places like Alaska and Hawaii.

Wallis and his wife would travel to New York, where they enjoyed Broadway plays and eccentricities of the city. They also traveled to London, Mexico, and Jamaica. Wherever they went, they enjoyed the cultures and people watching. When rooted, he devoted his time to his children, numerous varying pets (from coy fish to Parrots), working in the yard, and riding horses with his wife. He would later enjoy 13 grandchildren and 2 great grandchildren.

Wallis is predeceased by his parents David and Louise (Whitlock) McCoy, and survived by his wife, Sandy McCoy; his 4 children, Scott McCoy, Michelle McDonald (Glenn), Ron Juliussen, and Valeria Wessel; his brother David McCoy (Eloma), and his 13 grandchildren and 2 great grandchildren.

The family is being assisted by Skip Young and Jackie Fulford of Young Fulford Funeral Home and Crematory.

“ Mac was a treasure of a friend, caring, sharing, kind and loving. I'm filled with so many wonderful memories of time spent together with both Sandi and Mac in Alaska where I met him through my dearest friend Sandi, to times spent in California to Hawaii. Prayers of peace and comfort goes out to Sandi and all the family. Till we all meet again in the next life or here on earth. Love and hugs Mel Hipszer

Wallis was a great darts player in NY city and a knowledgeable computer guy who went to Alaska for a great job opportunity! As an MIT computer geek who liked the beach and outdoor tennis I stayed in NYC!
